A SINGLE TRIAL COURT FAVORED

Local Bar Discusses Federal Judiciary.

The System of Procedure Now Observed in Federal Court Needs Revising—District Judges Compelled to Sit on Circuit Court of Appeals and Pass on Matters From District Courts—More Circuit Judges Needed.

Friday afternoon in United States Circuit and District courts before final adjournment of the term until January 5 was taken there was an open conference, participated in by Judge Boyd and the members of the bar practicing in federal court here, relative to conditions in this circuit and the practice and procedure in federal courts generally. This conference was held at the suggestion of ex-Judge W. P. Bynum, Jr., ranking member of the committee on Judicial Administration and Remedial Procedure of the American Bar Association.

Among the matters discussed were the necessity of more circuit judges in this, the fourth, circuit; the abolition of the circuit court so as to give the district court the jurisdiction of both the circuit and district courts, and to make the circuit judges members of an intermediate appellate court, next to the supreme court, and not to permit district judges to sit on the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Judge Boyd said that it was sometimes embarrassing for a district judge to be a member of the Circuit Court of Appeals and over-rule the opinion of another district judge, and besides the district judge should not be required to leave his district, in which there is often pressing work on hand and need of his presence, to go and sit on the Circuit Court of Appeals for weeks at a time.

Judge Bynum called attention to a resolution which was offered at the last meeting of the American Bar Association and which was referred to the committee of which he is a member. This resolution states that "it is a matter of common knowledge that the Circuit Courts of Appeal have not been entirely satisfactory tribunals in a large class of actions and suits of federal cognizance where no further appeal is allowed to the Supreme Court of the United States."

In the resolution attention is called to the fact that the Circuit Court of Appeals is made up of one or two circuit judges and one or two district judges and that this court savors too much of a trial court, rather than an appellate tribunal, and that "political experience has demonstrated that in the organization of appellate tribunals it is desirable that appellate judges should be distinct from trial judges and not be invested with any original jurisdiction."

It is then recommended that the committee consider some plan "for the organization of intermediate federal courts of appeals which will be more satisfactory to the country at large, and free from existing defects," and the committee instructed to prepare a bill suitable for enactment by Congress erecting new intermediate courts of appeal to be invested with appellate jurisdiction now exercised by the Circuit Court of Appeals.

The committee to which this bill was referred known as the committee on Judicial Administration and Remedial Procedure is composed of Henry D. Estabrook, of New York, chairman; W. P. Bynum, of Greensboro, N. C.; Frederick N. Judson, St. Louis; William A. Blount, Pensacola, Fla.; and Henry-Fitz Smith, of Boston. This committee will meet in New York in May and prepare a bill and report to the next meeting of the American Bar Association. The committee is anxious to learn the attitude of the bar of the country to this proposition.

Under the present system there are two distinct trial courts—the district and the circuit courts. It was originally intended that district courts should be presided over by district judges, and circuit courts by judges of that name, but it was provided that in the absence of the circuit judge the district judge might open and preside over the circuit court. The result is that the district judges preside over practically all of the courts having jury trials. The circuit judges attend only to matters of appellate and equity jurisdiction. To the laymen and many lawyers the system is confusing. The jurisdiction of the two courts overlap at many points, and must start here and there, sometimes in the district court, sometimes in the circuit court. The same judge will try the case in either event and usually he will have the same jury to select from.

After the case is tried and an appeal is taken it goes to a court, composed of three judges, a majority of which is usually judges of the same rank of the one who tried the case below. Unless some constitutional or other important question is involved he cannot appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States, but must be content with the decision of a court composed of trial judges.

This is the condition that exists in the federal courts, and it is to remedy this that bar of the country is working. To consider these matters the meeting was held here yesterday. Not only this, but the rules and procedure in the courts of the United States are antiquated and lead to no end of confusion. Most of the states have adopted a code of civil procedure, but the procedure in the federal courts is a mixture of common law, statutes and rules of the supreme and inferior courts.

Not only did the local bar declare itself as favoring a single trial court and a distinct appellate court, but the members expressed themselves as favoring the appointment of two more circuit judges for the fourth circuit. At present there are only two. Many of the districts have four and five. The work of this district is increasing at so rapid pace that the circuit judges are overworked and do not have the time to give the care and attention that the importance of many of the cases that come before them demand. The members of the bar here hope that the members in Congress from this circuit will take up this matter and have a bill passed providing for the appointment of two more circuit judges. In that event the Circuit Court of Appeals could be composed at all times of three circuit judges.

The matters discussed at the meeting here will be taken up with the lawyers of other parts of the district and circuit, with a view to getting their opinions upon them.

It is significant that in his recent message to Congress President Taft discussed the matters of federal procedure and systems of United States courts, and refers to the reformation of the old rules that have been in force without much change for over a hundred years, as one of "the crying needs."

HUNT BUFFALO WITH AUTO

Modern Methods Used in Minnesota to Round Up Escaped Beast.

Minneapolis, Dec. 17.—The screams of school children, barricaded in a district school seven miles from Anoka prevented a charge through a window of the building by an enraged buffalo that escaped from James J. Hill's farm, 20 miles away, and gave the clew to the whereabouts of the beast that led to its death.

The chase after the bison was made in 1910 style—in an automobile. After an exciting hunt it was located in heavy timber. County Attorney Pratt and Lee Giddings left the automobile and entering the timber trace, saw the beast dashing through a field of stubble on the other side of the timber. A long shot by Pratt was followed by a volley from Giddings. A trail of blood led the posse to the wounded animal, which was killed.

MR. J. M. MARSH DEAD.

Well Known Young Man Died Suddenly in Maxton Yesterday Morning.

Mr. J. M. Marsh died suddenly in Maxton yesterday morning at 7:30 o'clock. He was in his usual health on Friday night and was in a hotel at Maxton preparing to leave for Red Springs yesterday when he was seized with a hemorrhage, dying in a few minutes. Mr. Marsh was well known here, being a member of Greensboro Lodge, No. 80, K. of P., and of Beuna Vista Lodge, No. 21, Odd Fellows. He was connected with the insurance department of the Pythian order.

The remains will be interred at Fayetteville this afternoon, the Pythians and Odd Fellows of that city to have charge of the funeral.

YARD-MASTER IS ASSAULTED

Raleigh Negroes Beat Him With Lanterns.

Colored Fireman and Brakemen of S. A. L. Recent Being Called to Duty—W. C. Dowd Stands For State Institutions—Oyster Dealer In a Fight—Three Charters Issued Yesterday—London Reporter Wires Governor.

Raleigh, Dec. 17.—In view of recent references to this matter by other aspirants to the speakership of the House of Representatives for the approaching session of the General Assembly, a friend and supporter of W. C. Dowd of Charlotte, for the speakership, calls attention to the fact that Mr. Dowd has always heartily supported measures for the most liberal maintenance of the state educational institutions. In fact that Mr. Dowd's record in the legislature as to these institutions shows that he believes in them and thinks they ought to be supported in the most commensurate and adequate manner.

John Dean, oyster and fish dealer who came here recently from Petersburg, was held for the Superior court today on the charge of secret assault on Frank Wilson, proprietor of Wilson Cafe and Chop House early this morning as Wilson closed his place for the night. A black jack was used with severe effect on Wilson's face and head. The two had quarreled over a woman for whom both had infatuation.

Yard Master Frank Smith, of the Seaboard Air Line here was set upon before day this morning by three negro railroad employees, fireman and brakemen and badly cut and bruised about the head with lanterns that his assailants used. He had gone to their shanty car to call two firemen to go on runs when grumbling and impudence brought a sharp rebuke from Capt. Smith, the assault resulting. John Studevant has been arrested and George and Clarence Larimore have escaped.

The Bank of Maxton, Robeson county, today filed an amendment to its charter increasing the capital from $40,000 to $75,000 and changing the authorized capital from $50,000 to $100,000. T. O. Evans is president.

Charters are issued for the Coggin Mining Co., Salisbury, capital $100,000 by N. B. McCanness and others for general mining purposes; the Beaufort Ice Co., Beaufort, capital $21,000, by M. C. Holland and others; the Samuel B. Coffin Co., High Point, capital, $50,000 for manufacture and sale of furniture, S. B. Coffin principal incorporator.

Governor Kitchin today received a telegram from the American representative of the London Daily Telegraph, dated at New York, telling the governor of the arrival of a representative of the great London daily at New York on the steamship Mauretania on a speed record breaking trip, bearing felicitations from the state and municipal officers of the Old Country and that he would start on this good ship for the return trip this evening to reach the other side December 23 so the round trip would be within 12 days, thus smashing all records. He wanted a message from the Governor of North Carolina to the Old Country.

Bequest to G. F. College.

Winston Sentinel: Rev. Solomon Helsabeck, who died near Rural Hall last Sunday morning, at the age of 89 years, left an estate valued at three thousand dollars. In his will he named Mr. J. S. D. Pulliam, of King, executor. The deceased bequeathed to Greensboro Female College twelve hundred dollars. The remainder of the estate is divided between his niece, Miss V. S. Anderson, who lived with Mr. Helsabeck, and the M. E. church, South.

The will directs that the money left to the church be used for missions, home and foreign.

STATUTE AGAINST EDDY GIFT

Law Prohibits Church Bequest Exceeding $2,000 Annual Income.

Boston, Dec. 17.—Under the revised statutes of Massachusetts, which prohibits bequests or gifts, the income of which is more than $2,000 annually being made to churches, the more than $2,000,000 which Mrs. Eddy willed to the Christian Science church may revert to the State, whether the heirs-at-law contest the will or not. While this provision has never been lived up to, yet it can be enforced through a suit brought by the attorney-general of the state.

Section 9, Chapter 37, of the revised laws of Massachusetts reads:

"The income of the gifts, grants, bequests and devises made to or for the use of any one church shall not exceed $2,000 a year, exclusive of the income of any personage land granted to or for the use of the ministry."

"The one way that the heirs could act in the event of the State bringing suit," said a prominent attorney, "would be to prefer charges against the attorney-general on the grounds that the Eddy bequest constitutes a breach of the church charter."

The articles of incorporation state that in August, 1879, a charter was granted "the church of Christ (Scientist)" but the tablet on the temple, which was the outgrowth of the original church, states that it is the "First Church of Christ, Scientist."

It is regarded as probable that this change from the title under which the charter was issued may be a detail of the court controversy should one arise.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS.

Total Value For November Was Over $336,000,000.

Washington, Dec. 17.—The total value of imports and exports of the United States for the month of November, 1910, was $336,716,129, an increase of $2,208,078 when compared with the corresponding month of last year, according to figures compiled by the bureau of statistics. The imports for the month are given as $130,161,688; of which $65,212,934 entered the country free of duty, while $65,148,454 were dutiable. The exports for the month were:

Domestic $203,882,170; foreign $2,472,571, making a total of $206,354,741, an excess of exports over imports of $75,993,353.

The imports for the 11 months ending with November were valued at $1,425,770,128, while goods were exported from the country to the value of $1,636,990,585. The excess of exports over imports for the 11 months was $221,220,457.

OPIUM SMUGGLING.

Custom Officers To Keep Stricter Look-out on Vessels From Chinese Ports.

San Francisco, Cal., Dec. 17.—Recent discoveries of extensive smuggling of opium and of Chinese immigrants into this port have brought from the authorities an order that vessels from the Orient are henceforth to be placed under watch as soon as they enter the harbor. Two customs officers are to be sent out to meet each arriving steamer at the Golden Gate.

Hitherto it has been the practice to allow the boats to come to anchor in the stream before sending inspectors aboard and in case of a vessel arriving at night, to leave her unguarded until daylight. It is believed that much of the successful smuggling has been carried on by lowering the contraband over the vessel's side before the arrival of the watchers from the immigration bureau and the customs department.

To Operate Motor Cars Between S. C. Towns Now.

Charleston, S. C., Dec. 17.—It is considered probable that the Southern Railway, encouraged by the success of the service in the Piedmont section of this state, will operate motor cars between Charleston and Summerville, 22 miles distant as soon as the cars can be obtained from the manufacturers. Officials here admit that the service is being given serious consideration. Tourist travel to the winter resort village is heavy and such service will be most beneficial.

And Help Avoid the Congestion At Post-office and At Same Time Insure Their Arrival Before the Day—Postmaster Douglas Makes Suggestions.

Postmaster R. D. Douglas sends The Telegram the following, which is full of timely suggestions: To the patrons of the Greensboro Post-office:

I think I may safely say that you can count on the men who compose the postal service here and elsewhere giving you the very best service that they can during the holiday rush, but at the same time it should be remembered that the large number of letters and parcels to be handled renders it impossible to keep the service up to the standard that is maintained under normal conditions. My experience and observation has been that as much as a third of the Christmas parcels handled by the postoffice are delivered after Christmas day. Sometimes this is due to delays in transit but more often to the delay of the senders. I need not say that almost any present loses just a little of its welcome if received a day or two late, and for this reason let me urge all who can to mail their parcels in plenty of time. By doing this you will help both yourselves and us.

For your information I will say that merchandise is known as "fourth class" and that the postage rate is one cent per ounce or fraction of an ounce; that books and other printed matter are known as "third class" and carry a rate of one cent for each two ounces or fraction thereof; and that all matter which contains writing or is sealed against inspection is "first class" and that the rate is two cents per ounce or fraction thereof. Third or fourth class matter may contain the name of the sender and a short expression appropriate to the season such as "Merry Christmas," but must not contain any writing other than this.

In view of the trouble we have had in past years I wish also to call your attention to the fact that Red Cross or other decorative stamps or postage stamps must not be so placed upon parcels as to seal the edges of the wrapping together or to seal the string down to the wrapping. If this is done it renders the package so sealed subject to postage at the first class rate.

If there is any doubt about the weight of the package or rate of postage consult the clerk at the stamp window, who will weigh packages or give the desired information.

ROBERT D. DOUGLAS, Postmaster.

WHEELS FIANCE TO WEDDING

Being Legless Does Not Dampen Sweet-heart's Affection.

Pittsburg, Dec. 17.—"Butch" Meyers was wheeled into the office of Alderman McInerney by his sweetheart this afternoon and cheerfully announced that the couple was there to get married.

The bride was Anna Reilly, daughter of a wholesale grocer. They were engaged to be married when a locomotive engine cut off both of Meyer's legs two months ago. Anna, was preparing her wedding garments at that time. She went to the hospital every day and the courtship was continued there. A week ago he was released.

After the wedding the bride wheeled her husband around to the stores to purchase household necessities.

Tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock the members of the Home Mission Society of West Market Street M. E. church will hold their last meeting before Christmas. The members are urged to come out for just one hour and help plan for doing something for the lonely who will not have near ones and dear ones to bring to them the joyous Christmas spirit. In our own pleasure let us not forget—forget. Come out for just one hour, Monday afternoon at 3:30.

Merchants Rushed Yesterday.

The merchants of the city did a good business yesterday. All during the day, and especially in the afternoon the stores were thronged with shoppers and in fact the clerks had about all they could do to wait on the trade. Despite the agitation for early shopping it is believed that the trade this week will be better than in several years.

TELEGRAPH RATE DISCRIMINATION

Greensboro Citizens Getting "Raw Deal".

Chamber of Commerce Gets Interstate Commerce Commission After the Western Union and Postal Companies. For Charging Higher Rates in Greensboro Than Other Cities.

The Chamber of Commerce is working on telegraph rate discrimination at present and having failed to get any satisfactory reply from the Western Union or the Postal Telegraph-Cable Companies, which do business here, the matter has been referred to the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington.

Secretary McLean some weeks ago presented the matter to the above body, stating that the rates from Washington to Greensboro were 25 per cent. higher than from Washington to Raleigh, despite the fact that the distance was not so great.

Yesterday the following letter was received by Secretary McLean from Secretary E. A. Moseley, of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which shows that the companies doing business here have been made to "sit up and take notice."

I regret that through inadvertence the receipt of your letter on 22d ultimo, complaining of unjust discriminations by the Western Union Telegraph Co. and the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company against Greensboro in favor of certain other points, was not acknowledged.

However, the matter of your complaint was promptly taken up with the telegraph companies, their officials being requested to give it immediate attention and to furnish a statement regarding it at the earliest practicable date. Acknowledgment of the commission's letter has been received from Mr. E. J. Nally, vice president of the Postal Telegraph Cable Company, who states that he will give the matter early attention. Acknowledgment has also been received from Mr. T. A. Vail, president of the Western Union Telegraph Company, who advises that he will investigate the subject and write further in the course of a few days. When definite statements have been received from the telegraph companies you will be further advised.

GETS JUDGMENT

In the Case of G. A. Grimsley, Administrator, Vs. Charles Glibbreath, in Amount of $106.50 and Interest—Defendant Appeals.

In the case of G. A. Grimsley, administrator, vs. Charles Glibbreath, tried yesterday afternoon at four o'clock before Justice Cunningham, judgment was awarded to the plaintiff in the sum of $106.50 and interest from June, 1908. The defendant appealed.

Two or three years ago Mr. Glibbreath, while driving a team, ran into an open ditch and broke his leg. He brought suit against the city and got judgment. The late Dr. J. E. Grimsley amputated the leg, and in the case tried yesterday it was the administrator for the Grimsley estate to whom was awarded the judgment above-mentioned.

YOUNG "MASTER" TAKES FUGITIVE DARKY HOME

Anthony, Accused of Killing Son-in-Law, Not Afraid to Go With "White Folks."

New York World.

Many years ago old black Anthony Burgess used to nurse and care for L. B. McIntosh on the plantation down at Manning, S. C. Yesterday that same L. B. McIntosh appeared with requisition papers and Sheriff E. B. Gamble of Clarendon county and started back to Manning with the negro, who will have to stand trial on the charge of murdering his son-in-law.

The negro was arrested a week ago on a description sent by Sheriff Gamble, but he refused to admit his name or that he was the man wanted. Yesterday when Mr. McIntosh appeared at Police Headquarters and Anthony was brought before him he said:

"It's all right; I knows that man, 'cos I nussed him when he was a baby and I knowed his father befo' him. They's gentlemen, and I won't put no gentlemen to bother on my account."

When asked if he were willing to return with the officers from South Carolina, the old man said:

"I'll do anything they wants me to do. I've made enough trouble now. I run away 'cos I was afraid of what the niggers down there might do to me. I wasn't afraid of the whites 'cos they're gentlemen. I'll go back and if they clear me all right, and if they don't—why, that'll be all right too."

And McIntosh slipped his arm through that of Anthony and said, "Come along, Uncle." To a reporter he said: "My father's last dollar will be spent, if need be, to clear the old negro."

Burgess is charged with killing his son-in-law on Jan. 22 last by shooting. The old man maintains that five weeks before that the man killed his daughter by mistreatment.

Anthony had but one regret at leaving New York, and that was that the Baptist Mission Church, where he had acted as janitor, owed him $1 for services. He hoped Pastor Wilson would bear of his predicament and forward the money to him in care of Sheriff Gamble.

TWENTY-YEAR OLD GIANT

He is Thomas Lynch, of Canton, Ohio—After Job in Navy.

Washington Herald.

Ollie James, Governor-elect of Tennessee, Dr. D. Percy Hickling and other "big" men of Washington will please stand aside and make room for Washington's boy giant.

He is Thomas Lynch, late of Canton, Ohio, who stands 6 feet 10 in his stockings and is but 20 years old. He blew into town yesterday and is making his home at 2226 Decatur Place northwest.

When Lynch walked down Pennsylvania avenue yesterday on a sight-seeing trip Washingtonians gasped. Towering head and shoulders, and then some, over the average man, he attracted the attention of even those to whom an inaugural parade had become somewhat of a bore and barely worth notice.

Young Lynch took in the dead-letter division of the postoffice on his sight-seeing walk. When his huge frame almost doubled to get through the door and then straightened out to its full 6 feet 10 work stopped. His guide, who somewhat over 5 feet 8, looked like a pigmy beside him.

It is the intention of Lynch to take a position at the navy yard. His father, who is a landscape gardener at the McKinley Memorial in Canton, stands 6 feet 3. The young man, who weighs 190 pounds, expects to get his "full growth" soon and then will begin to take on weight.

Aside from a few inconveniences, such as tucking his full height into a six-foot sleeping berth and placing his somewhat lengthy limbs under an ordinary dining-car table, Lynch says he had a most enjoyable trip east. He says he likes Washington, but will like it a bit better when another "leaf" is put in his bed.

WILEY TELLS HOW TO EAT.

Man About to Wed Says Four Meals a Day Not Too Many if You Need Them New York American.

"Four meals a day are not too many if your appetite demands them, three meals are plenty and two meals are not too few."

"A man should never eat when he is not hungry. And I do say emphatically that those who do no work should not eat."

"Now, what do you think of a man of my age thinking of getting married? But you have seen the girl and you know how great is my provocation," said Dr. Harvey M. Wiley, laughingly, this afternoon. Miss Kelton yesterday told the American that she did not know much about cooking but was willing to learn.

Asked today what he thought would constitute good home cooking, Dr. Wiley said:

"Probably the most important thing in keeping house is cleanliness. Nothing could be more delightful to a man than a well-cooked dinner served on a spotless clean cloth and dishes, and opposite to him a pretty wife, smiling at him, clad in a spotless dress."

"As to the cooking itself, good home cooking consists in having a good cook, good interest in the result of the cooking. It means, first of all, an egg properly boiled, a potato properly baked, a loaf properly raised with good yeast, a piece of meat cooked and not killed with spices, and, of course, it means that a kitchen must be presided over by one who looks upon the work as an art and with enthusiasm."

"I repeat that cleanliness is essential to all good cooking, and that the dishes be eaten with spirit, and, by the way, that does not mean alcoholic spirits. The menus are important parts also of the home cookers' duties. It is necessary that the proper foods be served together. Good meals eaten under pleasant domestic conditions assure a good appetite, which always awaits on good digestion. In fact, to sum up the art of good home cooking, it is simply that good taste applied with skill to gastronomies based on science will insure success."

ASSOCIATE JUSTICE HOKE ON CLUB SALE OF BEER

Why This Able Jurist Holds That the Colonial Club of Charlotte Violates the Prohibition Law.

The Telegram has been asked by a subscriber to print the dissenting opinion of Chief Justice Clark in the Colonial Club case which went up from Charlotte and which has been much discussed of late, but Judge Clark's opinion is rather too long for The Telegram's columns and it is printing instead the opinion of Associate Justice Hoke, which is brief and yet seems to give a very fair idea of the view held by him and the Chief Justice:

"On the facts established by the special verdict in this case, I am of the opinion that the title to this beer was in the defendant, the Colonial Club, and that the transaction by which a portion of it was from time to time passed over to the members, constituted a sale and in violation of our statute law on the subject. If the matter could be properly regarded as a separated series of transactions, considering each one just at the point when it would favor defendant's position, some support might be found for the ruling by which defendant is to be exonerated, but to my mind, the arrangement should be considered and dealt with as a whole, and in that view, as I interpret the verdict, it appears that the members desiring beer, gave a statement of the kind and quantity to defendant's treasurer and manager, and paid him the amount of money required. This money was covered into the club treasury and became, in form at least, a part of its general funds. The treasurer then gave an order for beer to a non-resident dealer, sending the club's check for the price and the beer was shipped to the defendant, and on arrival it was taken charge of by the treasurer and became a part of a general and larger quantity of beer in the care and control of the club, to be kept and cooled and handed over on demand of the members by the small. The order went from the club to the dealer, the money was taken from the general treasury and paid for by check of the club's manager. The beer was shipped from the dealer to the club and became an unidentified part of a larger quantity of beer or other liquor procured on the same general plan. Such an arrangement clearly put the title to the beer in the club and this result is not prevented by the fact that the name of the individual member was placed on the crate when it was shipped. It was sent to the club to be taken charge of by its treasurer and to become as stated, a part of a general larger quantity of beer kept on hand for its members, and was so intended by all of the parties from the beginning. The title, therefore, passed from the dealer to the club and when it was passed over to the individual member by the small on receipt of a coupon prepared for the purpose and representing value, this was a sale violative of law and should be so considered and dealt with.

"The Grain Elevator cases referred to, and to some extent, relied upon in the opinion of the court bear very little resemblance to the facts presented here, and even they are regarded by authors of approved excellence, Mr. Benjamin and others, as rather an exception to the general law regarding sales.
"The contrivance or 'system' resorted to in this instance can hardly be classed as ingenious—it's too bald. It does not require a costly dwelling place or an attractive environment to constitute a club, and if this transaction can be upheld as lawful, there is good reason to apprehend that the legislation we have enacted in the effort to minimize the evils of the liquor traffic will have been in vain."

The stand taken by the Farmers' Union for legislation looking to the teaching of elementary agriculture in the rural schools is commendable. The chief object of this organization of farmers is to educate the boys and girls of the rural districts, which means to place on a higher plane the life on the farm. Already the farmers have done a good work in this direction and the determination with which they are carrying out the plans already formulated will admit of nothing less than success.

The government's crusade against the "get rich quick" concerns should have the effect of helping legitimate business. When the people learn that there is no way to get rich quickly they will hold their money for investment with people whom they know and in whom they have confidence. Thus invested, their money will usually stay at home, where it was earned, and where it belongs. The government could hardly do the public a better service than by keeping up the fight on the numerous schemes the object of which is the separation, by fraudulent means, of the unwary from their money.

The House of Representatives seems disposed to economize. In the lately erected office building there are luxuriously appointed bathrooms and a bill was offered to provide for the salaries of attendants. But the House, in committee of the whole, on Friday voted to employ no attendants for the baths and, further, to sell the bath room fittings and return the money to the United States treasury. This action was very creditable to the House. Members of Congress should bathe as frequently as considerations of health and cleanliness demand, but the place for them to do it is at their homes and hotels. Many Congressmen, it would seem, devote their best energy and ingenuity in contriving new methods for pulling Uncle Sam's leg. And a nice exchange that for the $7,500 per that they get!

Champ Clark, who will in all probability be the next speaker of the House of Representatives, has made a statement covering his connection with two very important matters. One of these matters is as to the appointment of committees. Mr. Clark makes it plain that he doesn't want to play the czar, but on the contrary is perfectly willing for a committee on committees to appoint the committees. The other matter is in regard to whether he favors a piecemeal revision of the tariff or a revision of all of the tariff schedules. He comes out boldly for a piecemeal revision. In this respect his judgment is that of a number of leading Democrats and there is hardly a doubt that he and they are right. There are said to be some very obvious inequalities in the tariff and it seems the part of wisdom and common sense to pay attention to these first.

The Petersburg Index-Appeal charges the Democratic papers which have enthusiastically commended the selection of Justice Edward Douglass White, of Louisiana, to be chief justice with endorsing the Republican doctrine of protection also. Our Petersburg contemporary contends that Chief Justice White is a Democrat in name chiefly and a Southern man by residence and intimates that President Taft has played shrewd politics in making the appointment, striking both factions of his own party and making a play to the Democrats at the same time.—Danville Register.

The fact that Justice White used to be a high protectionist doesn't matter. He has probably learned better now. He's a great lawyer and has shown himself just and unbiased in his decisions; his selection by President Taft for chief justice was one of the most creditable acts the President ever performed. As to Mr. Taft's "playing shrewd politics," if he did anything of that sort he didn't know it.

Another theory exploded! (In these iconoclastic times the air is full of the thunder of exploding theories). Since the discovery of the germ as the ultimate agent of disease the theory has been held that flying dust was full of dangerous germs and that one risked his very life every time he faced it. But germs don't thrive in dust, according to the latest dictum of science, as voiced by Prof. Charles E. Winslow, of New York, an authority on germs. Dust, he says, affords microbes little or no opportunity for a livelihood, and they soon die out if forced to exist in that element. Therefore, persons who fear they may catch consumption and other contagious diseases from that source need have no fear. Time was when sputum from persons suffering from pulmonary diseases was supposed to be pregnant with much danger when it became dry and began to mingle with floating dust. That theory, however, has been exploded, according to Prof. Winslow, who says that science of today is practically agreed that the danger really lurks in drinking cups and other sources of personal contact. Nevertheless, it would be well not to rush to accept Prof. Winslow's conclusions as correct. It seems that with the specialists differing so widely from one another on mooted questions there is nothing to do but be guided by "the weight of the evidence." To illustrate, if twelve specialists passing on a given matter were to think one way and ten another, and they were each of equal standing, why, the right course to follow would be to stand with the twelve.

WILL HAVE PARENTS AS CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Dr. Westlake and His Wife, Divorced, Rewed at Behest of Girl of Thirteen.

New York World.

For the first time in eight years Adelaide Westlake, the daughter of the former mayor of Rahway, N. J., will have both her parents at a Christmas celebration. Adelaide brought about the reconciliation of Dr. and Mrs. Albert J. Westlake after they had been divorced for more than five years. Her father and mother were married a second time last August and yesterday Adelaide came to join them.

"We will have the merriest Christmas of our lives," said Miss Westlake yesterday. "When I left Rahway with Adelaide eight years ago she was five years. We are planning for a big celebration; bigger than the one we had when my daughter came home."

Adelaide carried out the reconciliation from Spokane, Wash., where she and her mother lived while Dr. Westlake stayed in Rahway. The girl sent her father scores of letters and finally proposed a remarriage. Then she arranged with Dr. Charles Cooper, of St. Paul's Episcopal church, Rahway, and the parted husband and wife were again united.

While Dr. and Mrs. Westlake were spending their second honeymoon Adelaide stayed with her grandmother in Spokane, but last week she hastened to Rahway to be home for the Christmas tree.

"Adelaide had to be introduced to me," said Dr. Westlake last night. "The girl was so young when she left home that she had almost forgotten me. I knew my daughter as soon as she stepped from the train, but I am sure another year would have made recognition difficult."

"Adelaide brought my wife and myself together last summer. It needed only a few minutes' talk to convince us both that we were mistaken when we were divorced. Then we hurried to the minister's house, just as my daughter suggested."

"Now that we are together we are planning a rousing time just as soon as Adelaide gets over the cold which is keeping her in bed. Those letters my daughter wrote were simply irresistible. It was hard to believe that the slip of a girl who was here eight years ago could write like that."

As Mayor Dr. Westlake became popular with the townspeople, and when he was elected to the Council he carried the largest vote ever cast. As soon as neighbors learned of Adelaide's return they began preparations for a surprise entertainment to be tendered the family.

Dr. Westlake married Miss Ida Schultz, of Newark in 1896. After the wedding the doctor set up a dental practice in Rahway, where he soon became identified with local politics. Just before Dr. Westlake became Mayor he and his wife separated. From that time until Adelaide learned to write the girl's father and mother communicated through lawyers.

MEETING OF LAYMEN.

Members of Missionary Committees Urged to Be Present This Afternoon.

This afternoon at the Friends' meeting house, Asheville street, the laymen of the several churches will hold an experience meeting, at which the members of the several missionary committees will make short talks, in which they will tell of their work during the past year. It is urged that every member of every missionary committee in the city, together with the pastors and the laymen interested in mission work, be present this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock.

Mr. O. C. Wysong will preside over the meeting and Mr. E. P. Wharton will make a short talk. All other talks will be limited to five minutes as it is the intention of the committee on arrangements to have each committee member say something that will be interesting and helpful. A program of song has been prepared for the meeting.

Pickpockets Made a Great Hal.

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 17.—It is estimated that pickpockets cleaned up fully $5,000 here Thursday night when Atlanta's "great white way" was thrown open to the public. The largest loss reported was that of C. C. Thorne, an insurance man who was robbed of nearly $1,000. A big part of this was in checks, which were later recovered. The police captured four men who are thought to have had a hand in some of the robberies.

The more some people have the more they want; that's why they go around looking for trouble.

MAJOR STEDMAN BACK.

Returned Yesterday From Trip to Washington—Says There Is No Opposition to Clark For Speaker.

Major Charles M. Stedman, who will represent the Fifth district in Congress after March 4, next, returned yesterday morning from Washington, where he went to attend a caucus of the North Carolina delegation in the next Congress. In Washington he was most cordially received by his friends and enjoyed his short visit to the capital very greatly. He will go to Washington again next month to attend a caucus of all the Democratic members of the next House.

When seen yesterday afternoon, Major Stedman said: "In my opinion there will be no opposition among Democrats to Clark as speaker and he will be practically the unanimous choice of the caucus. It is believed that the power to appoint committees will be taken away from the speaker, because Democratic members in their recent campaign promised to destroy 'Cannonism,' which in a general way is understood to mean the power to pack committees and obstruct legislation. No one is afraid of Mr. Clark, but it is felt that Democratic pledges will not be redeemed unless the authority to appoint committees is taken away from the speaker."

Major Stedman said that while it had been said that Mr. John W. Thompson, of Raleigh, would be a candidate for sergeant at arms of the House, that such is not the case. Mr. Thompson will not seek the place.

BABY BURNED TO DEATH.

Distressing Affair At Pomona Late Friday Afternoon—Funeral Yesterday.

The four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson, of Pomona, was horribly burned late Friday afternoon, the little child dying a few hours afterwards as a result of the injuries.

The little fellow was left in the room and when his mother returned in a few minutes was horrified to find the little lad enveloped in flames. She dashed a bucket of water over the child and extinguished the fire, which had practically burned all the clothing off his body. Medical attention was hurriedly secured, but the burns were so severe that all the physician could do was to alleviate the child's suffering until the end came yesterday morning at 1 o'clock.

The remains were interred at Hickory Grove, west of the city, yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Country Store Robbed.

Last night some one entered the store of E. E. Idol, located about a mile this side of Guilford Station, and rifled the cash drawer. About $18 in cash and a number of articles of merchandise was taken. The theft was discovered when Mr. Idol returned to the store after supper.

Mr. Wilson Kinley Dead.

Mr. Wilson Kinley, who resided a few miles northwest of town, died yesterday morning at 5 o'clock. He was 72 years of age, and had been for sometime in failing health. The funeral will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Shairpe today at one o'clock, from Zinc's Chapel.

BETTER THAN SPANKING.

Spanking does not cure children of bed-wetting. There is a constitutional cause for this trouble. Mrs. M. Sumners, Box W, Notre Dame, Ind., will send free to any mother her successful home treatment, with full instructions. Send no money, but write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child, the chances are it can't help it. This treatment also cures adults and aged people troubled with same difficulties by day or night.

Worse than an alarm of fire at night is the metallic cough of croup, bringing dread to the household. Careful mothers keep Foley's Honey and Tar in the house and give it at the first sign of danger. It contains no opiates. Howland Gardner.

ARE BABIES A BAD INVESTMENT?

Baltimore Sun.

Fortunately the babies of our land do not read public documents, being too much occupied with the pure milk problem and finding their toes to bother about statistics. But an indignant protest will go up from millions of mothers when they hear about the report of the California Board of Health setting forth the official conclusion that "babies do not pay." Looking into the matter from the standpoint of investment the California investigators figure out that from its birth to twenty years of age the average child costs $4,150 to rear, while his commercial value is only $4,000. The National Conservation Committee, in its independent investigation, found that the average value of a child was $2,900.

Judging from the complaints of fathers when the monthly bills come in, the cost of raising offspring has been greatly underestimated. The increased price of milk, infants' food and paregoric, rattles and toys has made the higher cost of babies a trying problem. The California statisticians have not figured on the annual mileage of father in walking the floor o' nights, or on the perils of green apples and the propensity of the said infant to eat safety pins and spool thread. Competent authorities inform us that a father has to walk about 17,956 miles in inducing the average kidlet to let the family go to sleep, while the mother jumps the precious darling up and down no less than 14,000,000 times before he becomes strong enough to whip his parents and get some peace. To enable the baby to cut a set of teeth requires the aid of six maiden aunts, four nurses, two doctors and seventeen neighbors. If a commission of fathers were allowed to figure up the actual cost of rearing each child they would probably put it somewhere above $65,000.

But when we come to the actual value of the babies themselves the Californians have arrived at a ridiculous figure. No baby can be measured by statistics or brought down to a cost table. Mere man can never measure the value of a child. Only the mother knows that, and there is not a mother in the land who is not absolutely certain that the dear little curly head that rests upon her breast is worth more than all the wealth of Rockefeller. A house without a baby in it is no home at all. It is like the play of "Hamlet" with Hamlet left out, a day without sunshine, a night without moonlight, life without laughter, music without song. He may be an everlasting trouble, a constant expense, but there is something wrong about the family which does not regard the baby as its most precious possession. He is the "young hopeful," in whom is bound up all the future. In him the father and mother live their lives over again, for he brings the freshness, innocence and joy of childhood, the promise of youth, the prophecy of a greater and better manhood. "Youth must be served," and the baby has a right to demand the best the household can give him. Anyone who would value the average baby at less than a million dollars would arouse the speechless indignation of his mother and incur the resentment of all the female relatives.

That eminent authority, Col. T. Roosevelt, contends that more babies is the crying need of our country. Though he himself belonged to the cavalry, he holds that the great demand of the times is for an increase in the infantry. The babies are doing their best by us. The charge of the Milk Trust, the scream of the suffragist, will not turn them from their duty. They will stick by us, no matter what it costs. "Theirs not to reason why, theirs but to grow and cry—hungry six million."

Qualified.

"Do you know anything about this case?" asked the attorney for the defense.

"I don't know anything about nothing," replied the man who had been summoned for jury duty.

"I think, your honor," said the attorney, "that it would be well to save time by having the gentleman sworn in at once."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Good Cheer.

"What are you getting up for your Christmas number?"

"Some great stuff," said the magazine editor. "We will have an article on pellagra, a study of the jail system, something on the isolation of typhoid germs, and a red blood expose of the way our axle grease is being adulterated."—Pittsburg Post.

Sorry He Spoke.

She—You seem to have something weighing on your mind.

WANTED HIS PAY.

The Husky Jamaican Didn't Care to Work For Nothing.An English naval officer tells of being on a war vessel which took provisions to St. Kitts, one of the British West India islands. A hurricane had left many of the inhabitants in a destitute or even starving condition.
Hungry crowds gathered at the wharf, but refused to help unload the food that was to be given to them unless paid for their work.A similar story sheds light on the Jamaican negro. Some years ago a hurricane devastated the island, and a large relief sum was raised; much of it in England and the United States.
The committee having charge of this fund sent a wagon load of lumber to a husky black man whose house had been scattered over the parish. He and his family were living in a rude shack, made out of odds and ends."What's that for?" he asked of the men who were unloading the material in front of his patch of ground.
"That's for your new house," was the reply. "It's from the relief fund and won't cost you anything."
"Who's goin' to build mah house?"
"You are, if anybody does."
"Who's goin' to pay me fur mah work?"—Waynesboro Record.

IT IS ALL RIGHT

to ask a friend to do you a favor when it is impossible to secure the favor in any other way. But why ask a friend to go on your bond as surety when the Greensboro Loan & Trust Company can give better security than an individual at no extra cost for its faithful discharge of its duty as a trustee or executor or administrator. Why should you sign a bond by which your "heirs, executors, administrators and assigns are held and firmly bound" to pay for the default of others; perhaps after your death, every dollar of your estate? Tell your friend not to burden you with such a grave responsibility. Let the Greensboro Loan & Trust Company become responsible.

Talk this over with us—it will assist you.
